Coleman Gives Nod To Hansell In Federal Election Returns; Arland Ran Close Second In Local Vote

Wyatt Finished Runner-up to Hansell Who Secured Re-election; Others Lost Deposits.

Ernest G. Hansell will go to Ottawa for the next five years as the Social Credit candidate for the federal riding of Macleod. This is the decision of the citizens of Macleod constituency who gave the candidates the following votes:

Hansell 5,964, Wyatt 3,933, Lewis 2,302, Wobick 2,169, Arland 1,670.

As a result of Arland, Lewis and Wobick gaining less than 50% of the winning candidate's votes they lose their deposits.

It is interesting to note the Coleman vote, which is as follows:

	Arland	Hansell	Lewis	Wyatt	Wobick
Carbondale	24	41	15	24	11
West Coleman	70	53	18	27	55
Coleman, Centre West	37	99	37	46	38
Coleman, Centre East	92	170	42	62	127
East Coleman	96	36	17	15	34
	319	399	129	174	265

Hansell, Social Credit, was given the nod over Arland, Labor Progressive, with Wobick CCF, running in third place. Liberal and Conservatives were far in the rear.

Being a miner it had been expected that Arland would poll a good vote. In fact when all Pass votes were counted Arland had approximately 300 majority over Hansell's 180. However, it was only in the mining towns that Arland received his support, as he got only approximately 200-odd votes more

MR. AND MRS. WM. JACKSON TO LEAVE FOR DRUMHELLER

Coleman is about to lose a well known couple in the persons of Mr. and Mrs. William Jackson, of Fifth Street. Negotiations have already been entered into for the disposal of their property and they plan on leaving Coleman for their new home in Drumheller in the near future.

They came here in the early twenties, Mr. Jackson securing employment in the International. Six years ago Mrs. Jackson opened a small grocery store in her fifth street home and has continued in that business till the present time.

NOTICE TO PARENTS

Parents who have children reaching the age of six years on or before Oct. 1, 1945, are asked to report to the primary teachers in either Central or West Coleman schools regarding securing entrance for the youngsters at commencement of the Fall term. The child's birth certificate should be submitted to the teacher for her inspection.

PTE. LEONARD HOYLE BACK FROM OVERSEAS

On Monday morning, June 11, Pte. Leonard Hoyle, son of Mr. and Mrs. David Hoyle, was scheduled to arrive in Calgary from overseas. His English bride, who arrived here during the winter months, travelled to the city to meet him. They are expected home tonight.

Pte. Hoyle enlisted in August of '40, and four weeks later was sailing up the Clyde in Scotland, which must constitute some sort of a record. He saw action in North Africa, Sicily and then Italy, where he suffered wounds at Ortona in December of 1943.

Hansell Wins Macleod Riding For Third Time

REV. E. G. HANSELL, M.P.

Practically holding his own in the industrial Crows' Nest Pass and gaining ground in the farming districts, E. G. Hansell surged out to the front in the five-man race to represent the Macleod riding in the federal government and won with a majority of 2,031 over his nearest opponent, Stanley Wyatt, Progressive Conservative. The other three lost their deposits.

This is the third time Mr. Hansell has successfully contested the Macleod riding. Here in Coleman he led over Arland, Labor Progressive, with an eighty vote majority. This, however, was wiped out in Blairmore, where Arland's fellow workers supported him well.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Antle Celebrated Silver Wedding Anniversary

Friends Presented Them With Silver Tea Service; Social Evening Enjoyed.

On Tuesday, June 5, eighteen relatives and friends of Mr. and Mrs. William Antle gathered at their Sixth Street home to honor them on the occasion of their 25th wedding anniversary.

All made merry during the evening with games and songs, following which a delightful luncheon was served. Mrs. Joseph Troz, niece of the honored couple, presented them, on behalf of the assembled guests, with a handsome silver tea set and wished them many more years of happy married life. Both Mr. and Mrs. Antle voiced their pleasure at being the recipients of such a beautiful gift and thanked their friends for their well wishes.

Mr. and Mrs. Antle were married in Coleman, and have a son and daughter, William Jr., now in the Canadian navy, and Mrs. R. Rhodes, of Cowley.

Up to ten years ago Mr. Antle had been in the employ of the provincial forestry service and for a number of years was stationed at Northern Fork. Ten years ago he was successful applicant for the position of chief of police for the town of Coleman and has occupied that position up till the present.

The many local friends of Mr. and Mrs. Antle take this opportunity of extending well wishes to them on the happy occasion.

Wing Commander Foss Boulton and Mrs. Boulton are expected to arrive home today for a holiday with the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Boulton. The couple have been spending part of their holiday at Vancouver visiting Mrs. Boulton's relatives, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Devine.

Harold Houghton Died Suddenly Tuesday Evening

Had Been Attending to Legion Business as Late as Four O'clock That Afternoon; Died Few Hours Later.

A wide circle of friends and acquaintances heard with shocked surprise the sudden passing of Harold Houghton, 54, on Tuesday evening at about 7.30. He had felt unwell for two days previously and had remained at home, but on Tuesday he had felt better and had gone to the Legion Club to attend to some business matters which required his attention as Legion secretary. Several of his friends were in contact with him till shortly after 4 p.m., when he started to go home. It was while on his way home that he took suddenly ill and barely managed to reach home. Here his condition was such that the doctor was summoned. Despite medical attention his condition continued to grow worse until at approximately 7.30 he passed away.

Born at Sutton, St. Helens, Lancashire, England, he was educated and grew to manhood in that town. It was there that he served his apprenticeship as a bricklayer. He came to Canada in 1911, settling at Coleman.

In 1914, while at Passburg, he married Miss Daisy Louise Smith, of Dartford, Kent, England. They took up residence in Coleman a few years before they moved to Calgary, where they resided for 17 years.

During the First Great War he enlisted with the 13th Canadian Mounted Rifles and later transferred to the 122nd Battalion. When in England he again transferred, this time to the 16th Battalion, with which unit he saw action in France. He was wounded in France, but after his wounds healed, he saw action a second time in France. In 1919 he returned to Canada where he received his honorable discharge.

He worked for a few years at each of the local mines. In 1922 he took up residence in Calgary with his family. In 1939 they returned to Coleman where they have resided up until the present.

Surviving are his wife; daughter, Edna, of Vancouver; son, PO Harry, of Halifax; three grandchildren; his mother, Mrs. J. Houghton sr.; two brothers and a sister. His son is now enroute home from Halifax.

His activities were many and varied. He was secretary of the Coleman branch of the Canadian Legion, was secretary of the Overseas Welfare Fund, which has sent many thousands of cigarettes to Coleman men and women serving overseas, he was a Flight Lieutenant of the Air Cadet Squadron, he was secretary of the V-Day Celebration Committee and was an active worker in the Lions Club. He had on several occasions acted as a salesman for the Coleman War Finance Committee in the various Victory Loans and did everything in his power to boost community activity.

The success attained by Summit Squadron of the Air Cadets is in no small measure the result of his painstaking efforts to train and interest the boys in Air Cadets. For some time he was in command of the Bellevue Air Cadet Squadron. Each month for the past several years he has solicited the business houses for donations to the Overseas Welfare Fund in order that money should always be on hand to forward the monthly carton of cigarettes to the boys overseas.

He was a faithful worker for the interests of the community and will be missed by many throughout town.

Funeral will be held on Monday next, the 18th, with a short service at the family home at 5.30 p.m., followed by church service in St. Alban's, Rev. W. E. Brown conducting, and committal in Coleman union cemetery. The Canadian Legion has taken charge of the funeral arrangements and will have Lion members as honorary pallbearers.

CAMPING AT WATERTON PARK

The Lethbridge Presbyterian Camp which was commenced last summer at Waterton Lakes Park was able to accommodate about 225 boys and girls during its first season of operation. The main building was completed last year; it is furnished with hardwood floor, fire-place and well equipped kitchen. One cabin was built last year, all of which cost about $4,000, which amount was contributed by people of the Lethbridge Presbytery. Coleman raised $160 toward the foregoing sum.

This year the Camp Committee plans to erect five cabins, and to install a water system for the kitchen. Accordingly, the committee has launched an appeal for $3000 to cover this further expenditure. It is hoped that the Coleman collectors will be courteously received when they make their appeal for this cause.

This year, the first camp will commence on July 7. It is planned to have two camps for boys and two for girls, each camp will last from seven to ten days. The camps will continue until August 15.

Experiment Ended

Fagan City Hitler Started Is Just Another Failure

Hitler's strength through joy automobile city a mile from Fallersleben now is a picture of a vast dream shattered.

Here Hitler started what he boasted would become the world's largest automobile plant, and he made the new city an experiment in attempting to eradicate Christianity.

Hitler promised that every worker would be in a position to become the owner of an air-cooled four-cylinder, 24-horsepower, five-seater diver beginning in the last months of 1939. The price for this people's car was fixed at 960 marks (about $396) and a special workmen's savings bank was started into which workers could pay as little as five marks monthly.

War broke out at the time fixed by Hitler for delivery of his first cars. No worker received his promised car and his savings account was credited to the war fund. Only a few production units are intact enough to make a few cars daily for Allied military purposes.

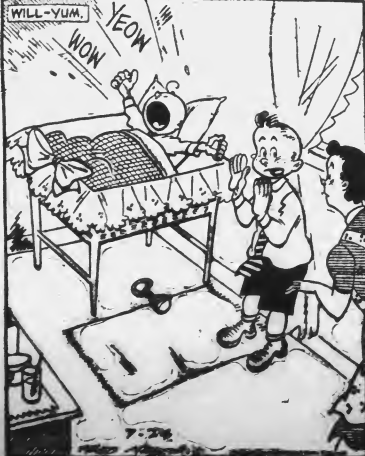

Germany's program to starve is doomed. Here Hitler was determined that citizens and especially children should be rear in Nazi paganism. No churches were permitted but instead a community house was erected as the city's centre of religious activities. There for instance the ceremony of "name-giving" as a substitute for Christian baptism was held.

That experiment also is ended.

Appointed To Senate

H. Captain Brewer Robinson was carrying on as usual with his duties as Acting Overseas Manager of the Canadian Legion when he heard of his appointment to the Canadian Senate.

The Captain's reaction was un-demonstrative. "It is nice," he said, "to know that I have friends at home."

Senator Robinson has many friends on both sides of the ocean. He has been active politically in his native province of Prince Edward Island a good part of his life having held the mayor's chair in Summerside as well as a seat in the P.E.I. Legislature. He served in France from 1915 to 1919 with the 2nd Heavy Battery during the last war and during the years of peace associated himself extensively with the affairs of the Canadian Legion.

The Senator came overseas as Auxiliary Supervisor attached to the Cape Breton Highlanders in the 5th Division. After serving with that unit in the United Kingdom, he transferred to the Personal Service Dept. of the Canadian Legion in London. Since the return of Mr. Basten to Canada a short while ago, Senator Robinson has been acting as Overseas Manager for the Legion.

Senator Robinson feels that he will take with him to the Upper Chamber a considerable understanding of soldier problems and how to deal with them. He fought with them in the last war and has served with them well in this. He is convinced that the plans for the rehabilitation of Canadian servicemen and women far surpass those of any other country. The Senator's wife is at present working in a blood clinic in Montreal but after the war they will probably divide their time between Ottawa and Summerside where he is associated with the P.E.I. Fur Pool Limited, a company formed by the breeders of silver fox.

A Striking Tribute

U.S. General Bears Witness To Churchill's Grandeur Of Leadership

General George Marshall, United States Chief of Staff in a message to Prime Minister Churchill, published in London, paid tribute to Mr. Churchill's vast contribution to the re-establishment of peace in Europe.

Gen. Marshall said: "It has been a long and terrible road for you since the fall of France. I can bear personal witness to the grandeur of your leadership."

There will always be in my mind the breadth of your vision, and your generous attitude in effecting the coordination and crystallization of our combined plans. Personally I will cherish the friendship and confidence you gave me during the seemingly slow and tortuous progress to the most complete victory in modern history."

Mr. Churchill in reply declared: "I am deeply grateful to you for the message with which you have honored me although it is far beyond my deserts."

Memory Selection: Ye shall be my witnesses both in Jerusalem, and in all Judea and Samaria, and unto the uttermost part of the earth. Acts 1:8

Lesson: Luke 24:44-46 Acts Devotional Reading: Ephesians 4:1-7

LUKE 24:44 And he said unto them, These are my words which I spake unto you while I was yet with you, that all things must be fulfilled which are written in the law of Moses and the prophets, and the psalms concerning me. 45 Then opened he their mind, that they might understand the scriptures: 46 and he said unto them, Thus it is written that the Christ should suffer and rise again from the dead the third day: 47 and that repentance and remission of sins should be preached in his name unto all the nations, beginning from Jerusalem. 48 Ye are witnesses of these things.

ACTS 4:1 And as they spake unto the people, the priests and the captain of the temple and the Sadducees came upon them, 2 being sore troubled because they taught the people, and proclaimed in Jesus the resurrection from the dead. 3 And they laid hands on them, and put them in ward unto the morrow: for it was now even tide. 4 But many of them that heard the word believed, and the number of the men came to be about five thousand.

ACTS 5:29 But Peter and the apostles answered and said, We must obey God rather than men. 30 The God of our fathers raised up Jesus, whom ye slew by hanging him on a tree: 31 Him did God exalt with his right hand to be a Prince and a Saviour, to give repentance to Israel, and remission of sins. 32 And we are witnesses of these things; and so is the Holy Spirit, whom God hath given to them that obey him.

33 But they which heard this, were cut to the heart; and were minded to slay them. 34 But there stood up one in the council, a Pharisee, named Gamaliel, a doctor of the law, had in honor of all the people, and commanded to put the men forth a little while. 35 And he said unto them, Ye men of Israel, take heed to yourselves as touching these men, what ye are about to do.

36 And now I say unto you, Refrain from these men, and let them alone: for if this counsel or this work be of men, it will be overthrown: 37 but if it is of God, ye will not be able to overthrow it. Let us therefore leave them alone: for if their counsel prosper, let us be found even to be fighting against God. 38 And to him they agreed, and when they had called Gamaliel unto them, they beat down and charged them not to speak in the name of Jesus, and let them alone.

42 And every day, in the temple and at home, they ceased not to teach and to preach Jesus as the Christ.

The capture of what was claimed to be the only Japanese female sniper of the war to date was disclosed by Lt.-Cmdr. Robert C. Downes, damage control officer of the aircraft carrier U.S.S. Franklin. OUR COMPLETE SHORT STORY—

Jealous Husband

— By —
MARCIA DAUGHTERY

McClure Newspaper Syndicate

"Tommy Anders going to the dinner tonight?"

Iris stared unhappily at her husband's grim profile as he let in the clutch and the sedan shot ahead. "I don't know."

"Lewis Alerd?"

"Oh, Gregg, what difference does it make? No matter who the extra man is, you'll be jealous of him. Sometimes I think you'd suspect me of making eyes at the Hunchback of Notre Dame."

Gregg parked and slid from under the wheel leaving the motor running. "Going to get some cigarettes and leave you to dream about . . ." his smile was tight lipped. " . . . whoever the guy is. And if I ever catch you with him, I'll blow his head off."

Relaxing with a sigh against the seat back Iris thought, Gregg is getting psychopathic. I wonder how much longer I can stand this jealousy business.

She closed her eyes when she heard his brisk step on the street, and remained possum-eyed as they charged down the highway, turned the corner on winning tires and shot westward.

"There's no sense in driving so fast," she complained.

"Keep your trap shut," ordered a strange voice.

Iris sat up as her heart leaped into the top of her head. The man at the wheel was young—not over 28—and there were hungry hollows beneath his cheek bones. A pulse was beating in his right temple; his skin was saffron to the beard line, and below that the darkness of stubble turned cheeks and chin a muddy gray.

"What are you going to do with me?" Iris asked.

"I'm going to take you out the Speedway and dump you. You can walk back."

The Speedway traversed the worst alkali section in the state. There wouldn't be a farmhouse for miles. Iris could feel every individual hair on her head as if she were a cushion sprouting pins.

Then her kidnapper made a most astonishing statement. "I'm sorry to scare you, ma'am, but I had to have this car."

She couldn't speak.

"Tied soup day before yesterday," he jerked. "A dish of wormy cereal the day before. I've a wife and kid, and they gotta eat. Not eligible for relief because I own half interest in a gas shovel."

Iris turned in the seat as the man stopped. "Listen, when I get to a telephone I'll have to notify the police. You'll be stopped within two or three hours. But if you want to make an honest living, I know a way."

Something about the eloquent look of his eyes reminded Iris of a beaten dog that bears a friendly voice. "You wouldn't be pulling a fast one?" he gasped.

"No. This is sincere. My husband, who is chairman of the grounds committee at the country club said they should get somebody to drain the lake and reclaim all the land shot that has accumulated in the sludge. The shot is worth sixty-five dollars a ton, and after all these years of clay pigeon shooting there ought to be a great deal. Gregg heard about a club in the east that did it, and was bowled over by the profits. The club would want twenty per cent. of the income. But you have a shovel, and it seems to me . . ."

Her companion's lower lip hung lax. "Maybe it's a trap," he grunted, "but I'm game to find out. If it's O.K. with you, I'd like to talk to your husband tonight."

To prove his belief in her the man added, "You drive back to town." Stepping into the road, he circled the car and got in on the other side. "See, I gave you a chance to leave me if you were just fast-talking yourself out of a tough spot," he explained.

As they headed cityward, Iris recalled Gregg's final statement: "If I ever catch you with him, I'll blow his head off."

If Gregg saw her with this stranger he would shoot first and ask questions afterwards. "Try to believe in me, as I've already proved my belief in you," she began. Swiftly she explained her fear.

The man scrutinized her. "Is your old man right? Have you been cheating?" No use lying to me, you know."

Iris' eyes met his. "No," she said, "there's never been any man for me but Gregg. I don't think there ever will be, because I happen to adore the big, lumbering, suspicious lug."

"That's good enough for me," said her companion. "You give me your husband's name and address and I'll show up at his office tomorrow morning. That will give you time to explain things to him, and if he's half as swell as you are, I'm the luckiest sucker on earth."

"His cards are in that side compartment."

He slipped one into his pocket.

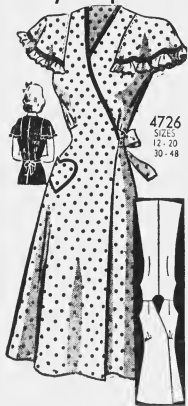

"You can let me out at the next corner, ma'am. Tomorrow morning is a deal."

At nine he walked into Gregg's office.

"If you think you're going to get paid . . ." bellowed Gregg.

The man grinned. "I don't want your dirty money. You're going to give me a job to earn my cash honestly. I found out what you wanted to know without dumping her. That woman is four-square, and no mistake, and if you don't give me the lake contract I'll tell her that you figured her alleged boy friend was following you car last night. Also, that you suspected they were going on a private party after she dropped you at the club, and you hired me to find out. Give, big shot—give!"

More Important Now

Mall For Armed Forces Should Carry Complete Return Address

A complete return address on all mail for the armed forces is more important than ever at the present time. The movement of members of the armed forces will increase rather than diminish with personnel changing units, returning to Canada or proceeding from Canada overseas. All these movements complicate the delivery of their mail. Under these circumstances the postal authorities urge that a complete return address be placed on all mail to ensure its prompt return if undeliverable.

A COUNTRY EDITOR LOOKS AT OUR CANADA

BY JIM GREENBLAT

Who ever heard of a bonspiel in July? Believed to be the first ever held in Canada, such a mid-summer event is scheduled for Nelson, B.C. Thespiel will last four or five days, limited to a 5-rink entry with four main events. The Nelson Civic Centre is co-operating with the Curling Club in promoting the bonspiel. Artificial ice, of course, but it should attract lots of attention.

The Rosetown Eagle in Saskatchewan makes this comment: "The sooner transportation to the United States can be found for those 24,000 English brides of American fighting men, the better. A shipment of English girls is worth more than their weight in diplomats in cementing the bond of friendship between the people of the United States and Great Britain."

This is not bull. An auction sale of animals by Claude Gillingier of Tofield, Alta., held at Edmonton, saw cattlemen from Saskatchewan, Alberta and the U.S. pay on the average $1700 each for 23 bulls, $1200 each for 11 heifers. Top price was $4300 for a yearling bull, a top heifer brought $2650.

Aye, well spoken: John Pindermore of Kamloops, B.C., speaking at a Chamber of Commerce meeting at Salmon Arm, said: "There are too many 'lumbians', British Columbians, Manitobians, Ontariobians and not enough Canadians in Canada. In the critical days to come, Canada will need all the Canadians she can get."

Tall stories now come from Cobourg, Ont., because the industrial relations committee of the Chamber of Commerce has helped to make H. F. Edgar, of Peterborough, locate his new factory in Cobourg. The new industry will manufacture fishing hooks, split rings, swivels and reels in the first unit of operation. It's a post-war industry, will employ 30. Such are springing up all over Canada in smaller centres.

V-E Day lines culled at random from the weekly press. There can be no question that our victory of today was divine intervention. . . . The Lord hath done great things for us, whereof we are glad. . . . Management and labor leaders have a difficult, critical job that requires the maximum of good sense, understanding and well-thought out policies. . . .

If we can learn to live together and work together in the interests of everyone in peace as in war—years spent in danger were not in vain. . . .

Meanwhile Canada has an important job in saving thousands from starvation by sending across the Atlantic all possible food supplies. . . . The expressions will vary in word and form, but the spirit of gratitude will be universal. . . .

Nova Scotians await with interest the development of the proposed Pettedicade power project. The report of the engineers is to be out any time now. Premier Jones has stated the cost of development might be as low as $97 per horsepower, which would make it cheapest in the world. A proposed tidal project in Great Britain is to cost $650 per horsepower.

Bits of Canada: Announcement of the death of the first soldier from Gore's Landing, Ont., to die in World War II came ironically at the conclusion of the V-E Day church service attended by all in the village; he was Roy Thackeray, 20. . . . At Belleville, Ont., a woman walked into a butcher shop, asked for a roast in the refrigerator, told it was sold, whipped out a gun and got it. . . . At Beverly, Sask. Tony Schenkey's billygoat climbed in the cab of his tractor, drank two gallons of purple gas, and passed out forever. . . . At Manville, Ont., a marriage united Dorothy Cook and George Mutton. . . . Ontario again holds the spotlight. At Newmarket, two soldiers were convicted for breaking into a grocery store. One of them, minus a tooth, took a bite on a piece of cheese, later was traced through this. . . . The Alaska Highway News gloats over the story that Wynne "Buddy" Smith, who hails from Glasgow, met down at the Pomeroy Cafe, ordered two dozen fried egg and polished them off at one sitting.

Peace Garden

Memorial To A Great President And Good Neighbor

The Peace Garden seems a most suitable place for a memorial to a great president and a Good Neighbor of Canada. Situated in the Turtle Mountains of Manitoba and North Dakota, the Peace Garden is close to the geographic centre of the continent, and has been developed by citizens of both Canada and the United States. It was designed as a memorial to the long-standing friendship between the two countries and as a pledge to the continuation of the harmony which has endured for more than a century.

Certainly the International Peace Garden seems an ideal location for the building of a lasting tribute to the man who above all others contributed to the deepening and broadening of that harmony. — Winnipeg Tribune

MEAT STRETCHING EXERCISE

One, two, three—STRETCH!

It isn't the newest reducing exercise—just the routine of a thrifty housewife planning this week's meals.

For stretching budgets, without sacrificing wholesome goodness and appetite appeal in those three-times-a-day meals, is one of the basic and vital jobs of home-makers today.

An important culinary trick for stretching the budget—and making thrifty main dishes even more inspiring to the appetite—is to use crisp cereal, that familiar breakfast standby, in a wide variety of main dish specialties, as a delicious extender of protein foods.

The mild, but distinctive flavor of these crisp flakes of corn proves a perfect flavor-complement for all sorts of meats and fish—for meat and fowl leftovers too. The use of prepared cereal as an extender for meat dishes is a time-saver for busy home-makers, for corn flakes, crisp and golden brown, roll easily to crumbs of any desired fineness.

Firestone

THE ONLY SYNTHETIC RUBBER TIRE

PROVED ON THE SPEEDWAY AT 100 MILES PER HOUR

CAR owners have been wondering just how safe synthetic rubber tires are—just how much mileage they will give. Firestone decided to put its tires to the supreme test. So a race car was equipped with regular, stock Firestone Synthetic Rubber Tires, the same as you can buy for your car, and raced for 500 miles around the Indianapolis Speedway under American Automobile Association supervision.

Wilbur Shaw, famous three-time winner of the Indianapolis Sweepstakes, volunteered to make the run. And he averaged 100.34 miles an hour, hitting more than 135 miles an hour on the straightaways! Imagine the punishment those tires took as they pounded over the rough brick and grinding asphalt... equal to 50,000 miles of ordinary driving! Yet, in this grueling, tire-torturing test, not a skid or blowout occurred.

Remember this fact when you get permission to buy new tires—Firestone are the only tires made that are safety-proof on the speedway for your protection on the highway.

WARNING—The tire shortage is more severe than ever before, and cannot get any easier in the near future. The only hope of keeping cars on the road is to continue to observe wartime speed limits and other simple, yet fundamental, precautions which have proved so successful in conserving our scarce war materials. Buy your Firestone tires now—before it's too late.

... V ... FEMALE FARM WORKERS

In order to supply the necessary labor to handle the fruit crop in British Columbia, National Selective Service is making arrangements to move female workers from Alberta and southwestern Saskatchewan to that province in the near future. P. J. Loke, manager of the employment and selective service office at Blairmore, stated today. Mr. Loke said these workers will be needed mainly to pick berries in the Lower Fraser Valley and to work in fruit orchards in the southern interior. Free transportation to BC distributing centres will be supplied, and return transportation provided for five dollars. The dates of the going and return movements will be announced in a few days.

Mr. Loke made it clear that female workers desirous of accepting this work must agree to remain in the employment to which they are referred either by an employment and selective service officer or by the British Columbia Dominion-Provincial Farm Labor Service. Although workers will be sent primarily to assist in gathering the fruit crop, there may be times when they will be asked to undertake other work ordinarily performed by women, and no applicant will be accepted unless she is agreeable to this arrangement, he said. Mr. Loke also stipulated that workers for this type of employment must be in good health, and between the ages of 18 and 45. Under no circumstances will children be allowed to accompany the workers. However, strong, healthy girls of 16 or 17 may be accepted provided their mothers are also proceeding to the same point for employment. Applications are invited from women who are resident in Alberta and that portion of southwestern Saskatchewan served by local employment and selective service offices in Regina, Moose Jaw and Swift Current.

"Here comes our cheque Mummy!"

All over Canada, in cities, towns, villages and on farms, hundreds of thousands of men and women watch for the postman to bring dependents' allowance cheques as other people look for pay-day. They are people of all ages whose breadwinners are away on active service. They include returned men not yet back in civil life.

And soon there will be hundreds of thousands more back from the war. They will receive cheques to help them buy civilian clothes, to go to college, to get technical or vocational training, to start in business for themselves, or to set up as farmers or fishermen.

The banks have to be prepared to cash all official cheques for these and a dozen other purposes—and to do so anywhere in Canada without charge. In fact, the banks supply Canada with the nationwide machinery to facilitate a grateful country's plans for restoring service men and women to civilian life.

This is a tremendous task. It will entail a vast amount of bookkeeping. But you can be sure that your banks will take it in their stride without impairing regular banking service.

Each For All

IN HIS MESSAGE TO THE MEN of the First Canadian Army on V-E Day, General Crerar said in part: "Each for all" has been the guiding principle of the Canadian army in battle. That same principle is the essential one to which we must adhere if we are to assure the life and growth of democratic government in the world—that community system which has been so eloquently described by Abraham Lincoln as "government of the people, by the people, for the people." "Soldiers of Canada have worked to it in war. Citizens of Canada can do no less in peace." Although this message was directed to the troops, all Canadians would do well to consider the thoughts expressed there, and to reflect on how the application of that guiding principle, "each for all" might be used to bring about "peace-time achievements comparable to those made by our men who fought so splendidly in Europe."

A New Chapter In Our History

When members of the armed forces return to civilian life, and our war industries are converted to peacetime production, we shall be commencing a new chapter in the history of this country. Many young men and women, coming out of the services will be entering business or professional life for the first time, and they will also, for the first time, assume the responsibilities of citizenship under peacetime conditions. Others, who were established in their work before the war, will return with a new outlook on many problems. The magnificent record of the Canadians on the fighting fronts has demonstrated their capacity for accomplishing great things. At home, our resources have been organized to give support to the armed forces, and there have been outstanding achievements in connection with production, scientific developments and many other matters. In all this we have worked to preserve our own freedom, and that of the other Allied countries. We must realize that the same energy, interest and co-operation will be needed if our future is to be secure.

People Should Use Franchise

The principle "each for all" has many applications to the conduct of affairs in time of peace. In a democracy the government reflects the will of the people. In Canada, there is every opportunity for the people to elect the government they prefer, and through that government, to determine the domestic and foreign policy. Statistics show, however, that on too many occasions large numbers of the people fail to register their votes in municipal, provincial and federal elections. If there is to be true democracy here, and if each citizen is to assume his or her full responsibility, we must begin by taking a deep interest in public affairs and by exercising our franchise at every opportunity. There are other domestic problems, including public health, education and unemployment which could profitably be approached from this point of view of "each for all". It has its application also to racial and religious tolerance both at home and abroad. Great possibilities lie ahead, but the responsibility for developing them lies with the people.

"What did the calf say to the sile?"

"I don't know."

"Is my fodder in there?"

Jones: "Heaven bless him! He showed confidence in me when the clouds were dark and threatening."

Robinson: "In what way?"

"He lent me an umbrella."

Professor: "What is the most potent poison?"

Student: "An airplane; one drop and you're dead."

Jones: "Who was that man I saw kissing you in the hotel foyer?"

Julie: "I couldn't just place him at the time, but he seemed to know me pretty well."

Price Control And Rationing Information

Q.—Has the restriction been removed on trucks which limited trucks to a travelling distance of 35 miles from their home address?

Dame Of Sark

Peasants Carried On Under Five Years Of German Occupation

The tiny island of Sark and its population of 360 peasants remained, during five years of German occupation, under the benevolent feudal rule of the 60-year-old Dame of Sark.

Liberated British forces expected to find that the garrison of some 300 Germans, led by an ardent Nazi captain, had ravaged the island. Very fond of any sports, her chief hobby, however, is fancy work. Reading, music and nature study come high on her list of "things I like to study and do."

The Dame, who is "Madame" to the reverent islanders, operates her island efficiently and democratically under the old English feudal system. Her grant to the island dates back to the time of Queen Elizabeth who gave it to a Jersey man, Helier De Carteret.

Report Gratifying

German Respected Cemeteries And Memorials In France And Belgium

Sir Fabian Ware and his colleagues of the Imperial War Graves Commission are able to give a gratifying account of the state of its cemeteries and memorials in France and Belgium after the German occupation. They were respected by the enemy and, thanks also to the care of the French and Belgian authorities, can soon be restored. Our cemetery at Cologne is also found to be in good condition. All this greatly lightens the work of repair and will hasten the work of making new cemeteries for the dead of this war, the commission's latest charge. It is a melancholy task performed with reverence and attention to architectural and horticultural beauty, and some of our best architects contribute to making these memorials worthy of our fallen. Happily the commission has not been stunted of funds; the governments of the commonwealth have contributed in proportion and there is no fear that the memorials will fall into neglect.—Manchester Guardian.

MEET A CWAC—

"Someone has to stay at home, I guess," says Pte. Emma Airfries, Togo, Sask. Emma, one of a family of six service members, all of them in khaki, is the only one still in Canada. One of her brothers was taken prisoner at Hong Kong, three others served on the Western Front as did also their sister, Alice, one of a company of CWACs in Belgium. Emma is extremely proud of her brothers and sisters. Of course she'd like to be over there with them, but as long as she can't be, she is determined to do a bang-up job of "carrying-on" in Canada. Emma enlisted in the C.W.A.C. in December, 1942. She received her basic training at Vermilion, a clerk's course in Edmonton and since that time has been posted in Regina. Very fond of any sports, her chief hobby, however, is fancy work. Reading, music and nature study come high on her list of "things I like to study and do."

PROMOTED—

Pte. Joyce Hilda Wick, Kerrobert, Sask., has recently been promoted to the rank of lance corporal at Camp Borden, Ont., where she is now stationed. L. Cpl. Wick enlisted at Winnipeg in February, 1943. Following her basic training at Vermilion, Alta., she was posted to Camp Borden as a storewoman where she has been employed since.

GRADUATE—

Several Western girls were included in the latest clerks' course graduating class at No. 3 CWAC (B) T.C., at Kitchener, Ont. Among them were Ptes. E. J. Annand, Mossbank, Sask.; M. Bilokret, Theodore, Sask.; G. E. Brady, McCreary, Man.; J. T. Czech, Raymond, Alta.; E. A. Bowerman, Regina; C. E. Edwards, Taber, Alta.; M. E. Griffiths, Calgary; D. J. Harey, Yorkton, Sask.; N. E. Johns, Balmar, Man.; J. M. Low, Riverhurst, Man.; A. E. P. Lewis, Chelviot, Sask.; S. M. Hunt, Vancouver, B. C.; Kirschman, Edmonton; and M. F. McBeth, Calgary.

YOU NEVER KNOW—

Cpl. Evelyn Watson, Belleville, Ont., started out to study cooking. She ended up in front of a camera. It all started when an Army photographer attended the cooking class to take some pictures for publicity purposes. When the negatives were developed one of the students was spotted as being a decidedly photogenic type. The "type" was identified as Corporal Watson and she was promptly enrolled on the list of CWAC models, on call for special publicity purposes. Her first assignment was to pose for a colour photo to be reproduced as the cover of a popular magazine. A former switchboard operator, Cpl. Watson enlisted in May, 1943. On completion of basic training at Kitchener, Ont., she attended the army stenographic course at Ottawa and Toronto. She is now employed as clerk typist at the Dir. of Repatriation, N.D.H.Q.

Record Hog Output

Major Increases Shown In Two Western Provinces

Of the record quantity of meat produced in Canada in 1944, Swift Canadian Co. Limited handled 16.2 per cent. J. H. Tapley, President, states in the company's annual report to employees just issued.

In 1944, Canadian pork production reached an all-time peak. Mr. Tapley pointed out. Total hog marketings across Canada jumped from 3,705,000 in 1939 to 8,863,000 in 1944, a rise of 142 per cent.

"Based on data published by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics and the Dominion Department of Agriculture, of total slaughterings of cattle, calves, hogs, sheep and lambs during the year 1944," said Mr. Tapley, "Swift Canadian Co. Limited, processed 16.2 per cent. of the total number of head of livestock slaughtered in Canada, or on the basis total pounds of meat produced last year our company handled 16.2 per cent."

Mr. Tapley also announced that a total of $2,600 in cash awards was received by 303 employees who had made acceptable suggestions under the Employees' Suggestion Plan.

He noted that 1,222 employees had gone into the armed services and recalled with regret that 34 of these had either been killed in action or died in service, five were missing in action and eight were prisoners of war.

"Our ability to meet the heavy wartime demand for food, and our achievement in handling record quantities at a time when many of our experienced employees are in the armed forces," said Mr. Tapley, "is a tribute to the efforts of all who remained behind at their jobs."

Bomb Campaign

Seven Thousand Guns Operated On Britain's East Coast

Seven thousand guns were arrayed on Britain's east coast when the second flying bomb campaign began in September, 1944. It was revealed. An official announcement said that the Germans launched 1,809 buzz bombs between Sept. 5 and the end of March, 1945. Anti-aircraft guns knocked down 407 and the R.A.F. claimed another 76. The Royal Navy was credited with 13 flying bombs.

CHURCHILL SAYS OUR HOPE FOR A PEACE ORGANIZATION RESTS WITH THE BIG THREE

LONDON.—Prime Minister Churchill said "our prevailing hope" for a world peace organization "is that the foundations will be laid on the indissoluble agreement of Great Britain, the United States and Soviet Russia."

In an 8,000 word declaration of the National Conservative party policy, the prime minister explained in detail his party's attitude toward domestic and international problems and said "the main hope of a world organization strong enough to prevent future wars of aggression by the weak or the strong."

He added: "It would be wrong to pretend that so far full success has been gained. Despair would be a crime."

Of the part Britain would have to play in the future, Mr. Churchill said "only a Britain that is strong and ready to fight in the defence of freedom will count in the high councils of the world and thus safeguard coming generations against the immeasurable horrors of another war."

Britain, he said, must not lose her position in world affairs now that the war in Europe is won, and added: "Until the end of the Japanese war and, I hope, until the world security has become a reality, all citizens under a democratic government should bear responsibility for defending their country and its cause."

Of Britain's international policy, Mr. Churchill said "we shall have the whole of our international policy on a recognition that in world affairs the mother country must act in the closest possible concert with all other parts of the British Commonwealth and Empire."

Canadian Army Is Ready For Duty In Germany

UTRECHT, Holland.—Formation of the Third Canadian Division (Canadian Occupation Force) is about to begin.

Garrison brigades numbers 107, 108 and 109 now have been almost completely moved to Holland and under command of the Third Canadian Infantry Division.

Each brigade now is about to be placed alongside the appropriate brigades of the Third Division. The 7th, 8th and 9th and the process of transferring personnel between the constituent battalions will begin.

Long-service personnel in garrison units will be transferred to the regular Third Division battalions; their places will be filled by short-service men and volunteers for this type of duty from other formations, including the Third Division.

The idea is to split the Third Division into two parts when this is completed. The occupational force, comprised mostly of volunteers and men more recently overseas, then will be ready for its role in Germany. The veteran Third Division, composed of longer service men, then will wait for repatriation, either as individuals on Canada drafts or as units when the necessity point in priority tables is reached.

The formation of Maj.-Gen. Chris Vokes' C.O.F. headquarters is proceeding apace and a slate of staff officers already is almost completed.

The administrative side of the Canadian army overseas solved the problem of halving the Canadian division here by calling one Third Canadian Infantry Division (C.O.F.) and the other Third Canadian Infantry Division (C.D.N.), which indicates its men are Canada-bound.

ISSUE NOT READY
OTTAWA.—Defence headquarters said that arrangements for the issue of new campaign stars, announced recently by Prime Minister Churchill, were not yet complete and therefore no applications from discharged veterans are being received.

PREFABRICATED HOUSES
LONDON.—Britain's aircraft industry, "beating bombers into bungalows," will launch production this year of 50,000 prefabricated aluminum houses, Duncan Sandys, minister of works, announced.

Mr. Churchill said that until British forces intervened, Britain had issued no arms to the Syrians or Lebanese, but that for the sake of maintaining order they now were being issued guns.

ASSIST RED CROSS

Conscientious Objectors Have Contributed Sum Of $1,784,259 From Pay

OTTAWA.—Some 10,700 conscientious objectors—known officially as alternative service workers—employed in agriculture and other industries of a high priority throughout Canada have contributed $1,784,259 from their pay to the Canadian Red Cross Society, a labor department statement said.

The statement said that because of the cancellation of military call-ups with the ending of the war in Europe, no new directives to report for alternative service will be issued to those men who would be otherwise eligible.

However, those engaged in work in place of service in the armed forces would continue such work until regulations which affect them are cancelled.

In a general review of the conscientious objector situation in Canada, Labor Minister Mitchell said that from five to 15 per cent. of alternative service workers' gross earnings are contributed to the Red Cross, depending on the individual earning power and the number of dependents. These workers, in common with other citizens, pay income tax.

WHEAT FOR BRITAIN

Says That Canada Has Done A Grand Job

MONTREAL.—Canada has done a "grand job" in the transportation of Canadian wheat for Britain and continental Europe, R. V. Biddulph, European commissioner of the Canadian wheat board, said here in a press interview.

Mr. Biddulph who has spent the last few months in Canada on behalf of the British food ministry, told reporters his report to British authorities on the amount and transportation of Canadian wheat overseas will be "very hopeful."

The 22 carefully-screened teachers include two Roman Catholic nuns, 18 other women, and two men. Their essential job is re-education of German youth.

Truman Asks For New Lend-Lease Appropriation Of $1,975,000,000

WASHINGTON.—President Truman asked congress for a new lend-lease appropriation of $1,975,000,000 to help "bring the conflict with Japan to a quick and decisive end." In a letter to Speaker Sam Rayburn of the house of representatives, the president said the appropriation, recommended for the fiscal year beginning July 1 would, together with unobligated balances of $2,400,000,000—make up a total program of $4,375,000,000.

NEW YORK.—The Russian-controlled Graz radio in Austria said that Marshal Stalin had "agreed" to attend a Big Three conference and had expressed the opinion that it "should be held soon."

The broadcast, mentioned by the Federal Communications Commission, credited the visit of Harry Hopkins to Moscow as playing "a large part in this development."

ONTARIO ELECTIONS

Premier George Drew Is Swept Back Into Power

TORONTO.—Premier George Drew and his government swept back into power in Ontario on a tide of Progressive Conservative votes which reduced the opposition to possibly 25 members in the 90 seat legislature.

The C.C.F., official opposition in the last legislature, slumped from 31 to six and the Liberals dropped from 15 to 10. Latest standing gave the Progressive Conservatives 67, the C.C.F. six, the Liberals 10, Liberal-Labor two and Labor Progressive two.

Returns were on the basis of the civilian vote. Service returns, not expected to influence the result greatly, will be made known in a few days.

The premier and his complete cabinet scored personal triumphs on the basis of civilian votes in this 22nd Ontario provincial election. But C.C.F. leader E. B. Joffe and Liberal leader Mitchell Hepburn followed their parties' fortunes. They lost to Progressive Conservative candidates.

The vote gave Premier Drew, who since election in August, 1943, had led a minority 38-member government, the first clear majority for the Progressive Conservatives since the 1929 elections.

It confirmed in office a party which has governed for 27 of the last 40 years.

NO RAIL EXCURSIONS

Restrictions On Weekend Holiday Fares Will Not Be Cancelled

TORONTO.—Hopes entertained that restrictions covering weekend, holiday and excursion fares on Canada's railways would be cancelled shortly vanished at the 74th annual meeting of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association when Federal Transport Controller T. C. Lockwood told the meeting returning servicemen would receive priority on Canadian transportation systems, even if necessary equipment had to be taken off regular trains.

GOING HOME TO WORK

LONDON.—The first of 300,000 German prisoners of war have been started on their way home to help in the production of German food-stuffs, the ministry of information announced. The statement emphasized that no officers were being sent back and that care was being taken to ensure that no war criminals were among those being sent home.

LARGE CONVOY OF SHIPS FROM BRITAIN WERE DAMAGED IN A COLLISION WITH ICEBERGS

HALIFAX.—Twenty-two ships of a 76-ship convoy making its way from Britain to North America have arrived in Halifax after they were damaged in a multiple collision which occurred as they took a 90-degree swerve to dodge a field of icebergs in the fog-bound Atlantic off the Newfoundland banks.

Among the ships damaged in a series of crashes which occurred within a 10-minute period, was the Canadian victory freighter, Fort Columbia which arrived in port with her bow bashed in. Three of the vessels hit icebergs.

"It is one of the greatest miracles of the Atlantic that no ships were sunk or lives lost," said an officer of one of the surviving ships.

For an entire week the convoy headed for North America lost in a thick fog. Visibility was barely more than 200 feet on Sunday afternoon, May 26, when one of the leading freighters signalled she had hit an iceberg.

There were instant messages from the commodore to alter course, but some of the ships were slower than others in making the 90-degree turn and vessel after vessel crashed into one another. Others missed collision by so little that men on watch "held their breath and prayed," as one crewman put it.

A British Liberty ship, the Samstrail, hit the first of nine sighted icebergs and started the confusion that followed. "The air was splitting with the booming of fog horns. The wireless boards were jumping with signals."

The crew of one ship dragged out a French hand horn to blow as a warning signal after its fog horn mechanism had broken down.

SAN FRANCISCO.—Complete agreement among the Big Five on voting procedure broke the United Nations conference deadlock and opened the way to early and successful completion of a world peace charter.

An agreement "assuring freedom of hearing and discussion" on international disputes in a world security council was announced by State Secretary Stettinius, who said the Big Five would have veto power over all council decisions relating to enforcement action and except for parties to dispute, in all decisions for peaceful settlement.

But, he said, the veto would not apply "to the right of any nation to bring a dispute before the council" for discussion, and "no individual member of the council can alone prevent a consideration and discussion by the council of a dispute or situation thus brought to its attention."

That was the point on which Russia had stood so stubbornly, insisting up to the last that Big Five members should have the power to veto even discussion of disputes.

Removal of the blockade which differences over the veto had imposed in the path of the conference will allow a number of committees which have been stalled to get under way once more.

They are those concerned with writing charter provisions dealing with voting in the security council and efforts of the council to bring a pacific end to arguments among nations.

The working conference committee began consideration of the charter section dealing with the voting procedure.

The break in the veto deadlock developed at a mid-afternoon meeting of chiefs of the Big Five delegations and Mr. Stettinius. Immediately the state secretary hurried to conference headquarters to announce the result to the conference steering committee, in which all 50 conference delegations are represented.

The steering committee held its briefest session of the conference and Mr. Stettinius immediately appeared before a crowd of reporters with his announcement.

The major question now remaining was whether the Big Five declaration will satisfy demands of small nations who have wanted the veto power lifted from investigation and peaceful settlement of disputes.

Some small powers had indicated they would battle onto the floor of the full conference for a greater easing of the big power veto right.

JAPS SAY BIG BAD B-29'S DESTROY IMPERIAL PALACE—Superfortresses, carrying their fire bomb source to the heart of the enemy empire, have laid waste what was once the world's third largest metropolis. Focal point of the Japanese people's foremost affection and undying loyalty—the imperial palace, above—was destroyed for the most part. A Tokyo commentator reported. The 500-plane raid on the very nerve centre of the Nip empire was the second such B-29 attack within 48 hours.
